How do you raise a child to be an enthusiastic and consistent reader? Here are some strategies that the diligent parent can use to help motivate a child to read.

Visit your local library often. Get your children their own library cards. Try a story hour or other free event at the library.

- At the library, let your child choose some of the books.
- Let your child see you reading.
- Encourage older children to read to their younger brothers and sisters.
- Show your child how people use reading all the time. Read aloud street and store signs, maps, billboards, menus, and labels on packages.
- Create a library for your child of new or used books. Look for affordable books at yard sales, secondhand book stores, and library book sales.
- Set up an area in your home where a variety of reading materials are within easy reach. Encourage writing by including paper, crayons, pens and pencils.
